

Dr. Savi Nageswaran is a pediatric palliative care physician and a health-services researcher. She is a professor in the Department of Pediatrics at Wake Forest School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, NC. She is the founding director of the Pediatric Enhanced Care Program, an integrated pediatric palliative/complex care program, and the Declan Donoghue Collaborative Care Program for children with undiagnosed complex conditions at Brenner Children's Hospital. In 2019, she was appointed by the Governor of North Carolina to the Commission on Children with Special Health Care Needs. As a health-services researcher, Dr. Nageswaran studies ways to deliver high-quality healthcare to children with serious illnesses, and has received grants from the National Institutes of Health, Health Resources & Services Administration, and National Palliative Care Research Center. Dr. Nageswaran is a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics and American Academy of Hospice & Palliative Medicine. She received the Cunniff-Dixon Early Physician Award for excellence in palliative and end-of-life care in 2011 and the Calvin C.J. Sia Community Pediatrics Medical Home Leadership and Advocacy Award from the American Academy of Pediatrics in 2020.